S. H. BARNHARD, J. R. KOMMER.
HANSMER & MOSSER PUBLISHERS.
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 8, 1872.

The last Democratic United States Senate adjourned sine die on the 4th of March, 1861. The Democrats had a clear majority of eight in that body, the same number they will have in the Senate which meets on the 18th instant. In the former there were 28 Republicans, 36 Democrats and 2 Americans; in the latter there will be 33 Republicans, 42 Democrats and 1 Independent.

The temperance people of Sterling, Ill., elected their ticket last Monday by a majority. R. B. Witmer was their candidate for Mayor. After a ratification meeting in the evening the Mayor-elect and a procession, headed by a band, called on Father O'Callahan the Catholic priest, and thanked him for his aid in securing the victory.

PHILADELPHIA is opposed to paying any part of the $4,000,000 added to the debt of Allegheny county, in which Pittsburgh is situated, incurred by the riot of 1876. The Ledger says the share of Philadelphia would be more than $1,000,000, which it thinks a pretty big price to pay "for the benefit of the city whose encouraged, unrestrained ruffians shot down in cold blood the Philadelphia soldiers sent to protect them."

A Dignified Spectacle.

New York Tribune (Rep.).

What a dignified spectacle the Democratic party presents in the Senate of the United States! Its three loudest, if not most gifted leaders, stretching their lungs in a grand competitive display of simulated indignation against a law whose sole intent is to preserve the purity of the ballot box! Reducing their uproar to hard facts, they are determined to do all in their power to make ballot box stuffing easy and unpunishable, and are willing to stop the wheels of Government, if necessary, to succeed. Hayard alone tries to hold them back. His efforts are very much like those of a man who should try to stop an express train, going at the top of its speed, with a hand-brake on the rear of the last car.

Sick of It.

New York Times (Rep.).

We are sick and weary of the shallow political philosophy which sees in every act of the National authority an encroachment on popular rights, and which undertakes to support by such names as George Mason and James Madison doctrines that would make the labors of those founding our Government utterly vain. We had supposed that the War for the Union had taught all reasoning men that the National Government, as much as any State Government, and more than some, was "of the people, for the people, by the people." The public man who can perceive nothing in the noble fabric of our National organization but a device of centralization, is dangerously blind and ignorant. Equally so is he who cannot understand that honest Congressional elections, in Florida as in Massachusetts, in Mississippi as in Ohio, are a National right, which the Nation has given to Congress a distinct power to assert and protect.

END OF THE VANDERBILT FEUD.

The Vanderbilt will case has been brought to an end through a compromise. The consideration is the payment by William H. Vanderbilt of $1,000,000 each to his brother, Cornelius, and his sister, Mrs. LeBau, with costs of the suit, which is withdrawn, along with all its charges, and specially the charge of "undue influence" held against the widow of the late Commodore. The New York Tribune, of today, contains an authenticated editorial statement of the particulars, as follows: The Vanderbilt will contest came to an abrupt conclusion to-day. It is well-known, though not generally acknowledged, that the termination has been brought about by a compromise, which involves also the pending suit of Cornelius Vanderbilt against W. H. Vanderbilt. Some of the evidence which two of the plaintiffs, Mrs. LeBau and her brother, were prepared to submit, in the event of further contests of their claims was told to Judge Rapallo, and others' advice negotiations and compromise followed. Cornelius J. Vanderbilt is to receive $1,000,000 and his expenses in the suit in the Supreme Court, and Mrs. LeBau, now Mrs. Berger, a like amount and costs, and the will of the late Commodore Vanderbilt is to remain uncontested. It is rumored that all other heirs have been satisfied, and that numerous beneficiaries by memorandum, left by the testator with William H. Vanderbilt, will receive their full claims.

CHANDLER ON JEFF DAVIS.

While the proposition to pension the soldiers of the Mexican war, Jeff Davis included, was under discussion, the other morning, Senator Chandler of Michigan arose and spoke as follows:

Mr. President: Twenty-two years ago to-morrow, in the old hall of the Senate, now occupied by the Supreme Court of the United States, I, in company with Jefferson Davis, stood up and swore before Almighty God that I would support the constitution of the United States. Jefferson Davis came from the Cabinet of Franklin Pierce, into the Senate of the United States, and took an oath with me to be faithful to the government. During the four years I sat in this body with Jefferson Davis and saw preparations going on from day to day for the overthrow of the government. With treason in his heart and perjury upon his lips, he took an oath to sustain the government that he meant to overthrow. Sir, there was method in that madness. He, in co-operation with other men from his section, and in the Cabinet of Buchanan, made careful preparation for the event that was to follow. Your armies were scattered all over this broad land, where they could not be used in an emergency. Your fleets were scattered wherever the winds blow and water was found to float them where they could not be used to put down rebellion. Your treasury was depleted until your bonds, bearing six per cent., principal and interest payable in coin, were sold for eighty-eight cents on the dollar for current expenses, and no buyers. Reparations were carelessly made. Your arms were sold under an apparently innocent clause in an army bill providing that the Secretary of War, might, at his discretion, sell such arms as he deemed fit for the interest of the government to sell. Sir, eighteen years ago last month I sat in these halls and listened to Jefferson Davis delivering his farewell address, informing us what our constitutional duties to this government were, and then, he left and entered into the rebellion to overthrow the government he had sworn to support. I remained here, sir, during the whole of that terrible rebellion. I saw our brave soldiers by thousands and hundreds of thousands, ay, I might say millions, pass through the theatre of war, and I saw their shattered ranks return. I saw steam boats after steamboat and railroad train after railroad train arrive with the maimed and wounded. I was with my friend from Rhode Island (Barnside) when he commanded the army of the Potomac, and saw piles of legs and arms that made humanity shudder. I saw the widow and orphan in their houses and heard the weeping and wailing of those who had lost their dearest and their best. Mr. President, I little thought at that time that I should live to hear in the Senate of the United States eulogies upon Jefferson Davis living, a living rebel, eulogized for the Speakership. The Greenbackers propose to go through the laces of nominating a candidate, and are talking of Judge Kelley, thinking that he may receive the support of the Republican side of the Chamber.

California will not be represented in the lower branch of Congress at the extra session, the election for members not being held until next September. New Hampshire will be represented by only one Senator, unless the Governor shall appoint a Senator to act until the Legislature can elect a successor to Mr. Wadleigh, whose term of office expired yesterday. It is believed here that the Governor will appoint Mr. Wadleigh to fill this vacancy.

The Texas Pacific lobby will move on the new Congress, and endeavor to get a bill passed at the extra session. The leaders assert that the new Congress will be more favorable to their scheme than the one which has just expired.

A prominent Democratic Senator, of the Bourbon type, said this afternoon that unless the Republicans agreed to repeal the Election laws, no appropriation bills would be passed by Congress. The Democrats would pass bills repealing these laws, and, if vetoed, would then attach them to the appropriation bills, and force the President to approve them or go without appropriations to run the Government. In the opinion of this Senator, Congress would be in session all summer unless the Republicans and the President back down.

The new Director of the Mints, Mr. Burchard, took the oath of office and entered upon his duties to-day.

WASHINGTON ECHOES.

THE DEMOCRATIC GAME.

Opening of the Speakership Contest.

A Chicago Murderer to Swing.

ARCHBISHOP PURCELL'S DIFFICULTIES.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—A night's reflection has convinced many Democrats that they made a mistake in defeating the two appropriation bills, and that their party stands upon very dangerous ground, now that an extra session of Congress has been called, and the responsibility for all further legislation rests upon them. The work which the extra session of Congress will be called upon to do is not merely the passage of appropriation bills. The President will call attention to the condition of the Treasury, and the fact that the revenues for the next fiscal year will not be sufficient to meet the appropriations, and that some legislation to increase the revenue is imperatively demanded.

Attention will be directed to the late letter of Secretary Sherman upon this subject. This will involve the question of increased taxation, and the Democratic Congress will be compelled to meet it. It is expected that there will be other general legislation, and the best judges here believe that the session will run from two to three months, or until warm weather sets in. The parties who are interested in the Geneva Award bill will strive to get it acted on, and legislation regarding the duty on sugar will again be urged by Secretary Sherman; so that a short session is impossible.

The contest over the Speakership of the next House has already begun in earnest, with Mr. Randall on the inside track. The friends of Mr. Blackburn (Ky.) feel confident that he will command enough Southern votes to insure his election over Randall. There will be other candidates in the field, but their candidacy will be carried on more with a view of securing the Chairmanship of committees. It is believed that General Garfield will be the unanimous choice of the Republican caucus for the Speakership. The Greenbackers propose to go through the laces of nominating a candidate, and are talking of Judge Kelley, thinking that he may receive the support of the Republican side of the Chamber.

California will not be represented in the lower branch of Congress at the extra session, the election for members not being held until next September.

(April 11-d&f)

CHICAGO, March 5.—The Greenback Club, in convention to-day, elected R. E. Hoyt, of Michigan, President. A platform was adopted affirming the heretofore expressed creed of the Greenback party, and declaring that Postmasters should be elected; that the Government should prohibit the importation of Chinese for servile labor; that a labor bureau be established; making a law disfranchising any person who offered to purchase or does purchase votes, and calling for other innovations in the Government. The resolutions strongly favor reforms of various kinds. The convention adjourned to-night after voting to reimburse Mr. Pomeroy for the money he has expended in forming Greenback clubs. The attendance has been small, only one hundred and fifty being present to represent six hundred and twenty clubs said to be in existence, and the proceedings have not attracted attention here.

CORNICIA, Texas, March 5.—About 5 o'clock last evening six murderers confined in the county jail, in this city, overpowered the guards and escaped. They were led by one Jesse Rose, the most noted desperado in the State, who was awaiting trial for a most brutal murder, committed here last December making the sixth murder he had committed within one year. The escapades were all captured, except Rose, after a lively fight, during which three of them were badly wounded. Rose armed himself with a repeating rifle and two revolvers before leaving the jail, and, finding a farmer plowing near by, he cut the latter's horse loose, mounted him, and was out of sight in a moment. Fifty citizens, well mounted and armed, started immediately in pursuit. This is Rose's third escape.

CINCINNATI, March 5.—Archbishop Purcell to-day caused to be filed on record a deed conveying to his brother, Father Edward Purcell, the Archbishop's residence, the old St. John's Hospital property, corner Third and Plum street, Mount St. Mary's Seminary, the Cathedral School, corner Mound and Euclid streets, together with several lots of suburban property, including his interest in what is known as the Considine property, which was bequeathed to the Archbishop by Patrick Considine a number of years ago. Father Edward Purcell followed the action by formally assigning all to John B. Mannix for the benefit of his creditors.

JENKINSVILLE, Ill., March 5.—Mrs. Margaret, wife of Geo. Witt, living two miles northwest of Kane, Ill., was fatally burned with coal oil last evening. Her little child pulled the lamp off the table, and she was instantly enveloped in flames. A workman near, bearing her screams, rushed in and saved the child, but Mrs. Witt was shockingly burned, and died this morning in great agony. Mrs. Witt was a daughter of the late C. J. Gardner, and sister of Gardner Bros., merchants in New Kane. Mr. Witt was at Campbell's temperance lecture, in Kane, at the time of the sad occurrence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Considerable speculation is indulged in administration as well as congressional circles as to the probable duration of the extra session, and also as to whether Congress will go on with general legislation or simply confine itself to the special object for which the session was called. The general impression is that Congress will thus limit the scope of its labors.

The leading Democrats in the Senate and House reassert their determination to incorporate in the two bills the same amendments which caused the defeat of the appropriation bills. They have been informed by leading Republicans that the President would probably interpose his veto on the ground that the proposed legislation was revolutionary, and should not be forced through as a rider to an appropriation bill. The Republicans say that inasmuch as the Democrats now have a majority in both Houses, it should be embodied in an independent measure and discussed on its merits. The President has indicated his willingness to give it impartial consideration.

WE DON'T CARE.

Some dealers say: Yes, we know that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the best; but we don't care if others are made of saw-dust or arsenic, so long as they afford us a better profit, and we can sell them. The reason why adulterated baking powders are recommended is because Dr. Price's pay less profit.

A sufficient number of trees are to be planted in the park this spring to fill vacant places to an extent that will, when the trees are grown, form a good shade along all the walks. As the matter now is there is scarcely any shade in the south-east corner.

THE GURU ACTOR - On Saturday evening next Lawrence Barrett will appear at the opera house in "Richelieu." While Mr. Barrett is an artist of great ability and renders any part in which he appears with great fidelity to life, "Richelieu" is his forte; and in the rendition of this character he has no peer on the American stage. Who that ever saw the play well put upon the stage does not want to see it again; indeed, it is one of those pieces that one can witness with interest once a year for a lifetime. We shall look for a crowded house.

A PROBABLY FATAL ASSAULT.

A Man's Skull Cracked with a Harrow Tooth.

Yesterday afternoon, at Linton Station, on the I. D. & S. Railroad, about fifteen miles east from Decatur, Jerry Duncan and Leonard Mansell, both of whom live in that vicinity, became involved in an altercation, in which both used very sharp words. Finally Mansell turned to walk away when Duncan followed, and struck him just above the left ear with a harrow tooth, knocking him down and fracturing his skull. Both men are married, and are said to be sober and industrious citizens. We learn that the dispute was about the ownership of a pocket knife, which fact shows how trifling a matter may lead to serious and even fatal results.

When Duncan saw the extent of the injury he had inflicted he became alarmed, and asked some bystander to go for the doctor, to which some one answered that he had better go himself. Upon this suggestion Duncan went for a physician, who, on examining the wound, expressed the opinion that it would prove fatal.

When our informant left the scene of the difficulty Duncan had not been arrested, but he is probably in custody before this time.

DECATUR DARKIES IN TROUBLE.

The Paragraph gives an extended account of the arrest and trial of a gang of thieves and pelfurers at Bloomington on Monday last. Riley Scott and Alie Goodin, two colored individuals, who own Decatur as their home, and who have frequently been placed behind the bars of our county jail for various offenses, were among the twelve prisoners arrested, who had previously banded together in three small rooms—men and women boys and girls, whites and blacks, mingling in domestic union, day and night. The gang was nipped for miscellaneous stealing, but only two, Riley Scott and a Bloomington darky named Gay, were accused so grand an ovation that their fame has become world wide. At the end of the opera the audience waited to catch her before the curtain, and gave her a passing plaudit of cheers. Miss Litta is well posted on educational matters, and, like her father, Eli Ulery, Esq.

We learned from Mr. Bell, the father of little Claude, who met with such a terrible accident on Monday night last, that there is no particular change in the condition of the child since yesterday. When awake he is entirely conscious and rational, and takes fluid nourishment.

WM. GRUBBS, bootkeeper at Linn & Serigne's dry goods house, took his departure yesterday for Logan county, Ky., where he will remain a week or ten days, visiting his brother, Judge Charles S. Grubbs.

Miss Ella Dear, a niece of Mrs. A. Litsinger, who is teaching at the Monitor school house, near Kenney, in DeWitt county, gave an entertainment recently, assisted by her scholars, consisting of songs, dialogues, recitations, and declaimations. The school house was crowded, and the Kenney Blades say everybody was delighted.

E. A. Gastman, superintendent of the Decatur public schools, was yesterday nominated by Governor Culton and confirmed by the Senate. He has a wide acquaintance with the schools of the State, and the news of his prompt confirmation by the Senate will be very gratifying to his hosts of friends in this part of the State. He was appointed to this important position by Gov. Palmer in 1871 to fill a vacancy, and again in 1873 by Gov. Beveridge for six years.

GENERAL admission, $1.00, reserved seats, $1.25. Reserved seats can be secured by sending a postal card to W. R. Abbott, jeweler, Decatur, Illinois.

CONCERT.—In our last week's paper the name of Frank Ogle, of Penn Gord, appeared in connection with our police court. We wish to say that another fellow gave Frank Ogle's name, and that Ogle was not here at all.

A BIO-TALE OF SEATS. The sale of reserved seats for the Litta concert at the Tabernacle March 20th, opened at Abbott's jewelry store this morning, and up to noon over 200 seats were taken. This is a good indication that the Tabernacle will be crowded on the 20th. There are still many choice seats left, and if you want to secure a good location call around before it is too late.

ATTORNEY, GUARDIAN'S Meeting this Thursday evening at 7:30 for rehearsal. A full attendance is desired.

AN INQUIRY.

Is it not better to purchase Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, Lemon, Orange, Vanilla, etc., that have stood the test for years, than adulterated, inferior articles, because they are cheaper? Good pure articles have a fair valuation, and Dr. Price's are unequalled in quality and purity.

DIED,

At Warrensburg, on the morning of Wednesday, March 5th, Little Lexington, daughter of James and Carrie Bushard, aged about three years.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, at one o'clock. Mrs. Bushard is a daughter of Mr. Dayton Dunham, of this city.

MILITARY DRAMA.

We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of the military drama entitled, "North and South," to be produced under the auspices of the Decatur Grenadiers, at the opera house, four nights next week, commencing on Tuesday, 11th instant. Admission, 25 and 50 cents; reserved seats now on sale at Curtis & Ewing's jewelry store. The following persons will personate the leading characters: The popular young actor, J. G. Steele, and the famous Dutch comedian, Charles Collins, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed. Hill, of Lincoln, relatives of Mrs. R. T. Oglesby; Miss Ella Ulery, and Messrs. Edgar F. Ewing, I. D. Walker, Ed. B. McDonald, W. W. Foster, Park Hammer, Lieut. O. Gorin, David Hutchinson and Harry Durfee, Jr. Twenty beautiful young ladies will take part in tableau scenes, and large numbers of soldiers, citizens and refugees will appear on the stage during the progress of the play. The following is from a leading eastern paper:

Our loving people will be glad to hear that Charlie Collins, who took the part of "Peter Higley" in the Color Guard, is coming again in a new play called "North and South." The play is meeting with great success wherever introduced, and Collins is a great favorite. He needs no introduction to the Owego people, and all will be glad to hear him sing his songs and take his droll part in the play. Mr. J. G. Steele, the author of the play, takes a prominent part, that of the Scout.
